Item 1. Business

BlueGrace Logistics is presented in this demo as a privately held, non-asset third-party logistics provider focused on LTL brokerage, truckload brokerage and managed transportation for small and mid-size shippers.

In this illustrative profile the company works with 9,500 contracted carriers, including contracts with national and regional LTL carriers, and has 780 employees.

Its transportation management software rates and books LTL shipments across many carriers, which lets shippers compare price and transit time per shipment.

Its ten largest shippers generated 22% of revenue in 2025 in this synthetic profile.

It targets tender acceptance of 93% on contracted LTL lanes.

Item 1A. Risk Factors

BlueGrace Logistics owns no trucks, so its LTL service quality depends on the carriers it books, and on-time performance varies by carrier.

Price increases from national LTL carriers flow through to shippers with a lag, which can compress margins.

The company is privately held and its financial statements are not audited by a registered public accounting firm or filed with the SEC.

Cargo claims on brokered LTL freight are filed against the carrier, which can delay recovery for shippers.

A cyber incident affecting its transportation management software could disrupt booking and tracking for many shippers at once.
